

Wake Up America: No Borders, No Language, No Culture = No Country!

SEPTEMBER MEETING, Wednesday September 14, 2016

PROGRAM: Speakers: Jim Bender, candidate for Sarasota County Tax Collector and Representative Julio Gonzalez, MD, candidate for State House District 74.

Mr. Bender has over 30 years of U.S. Army military experience and worked for the U.S. Government at Central Command for 13 years. His motto: "Proud to Serve!" Rep. Gonzalez, MD, is currently serving in the State House for District 74. He will apprise us of prevalent information from recent sessions and his plans for 2017. He is an attorney, orthopedic surgeon, author, and U.S. Navy veteran. He says, "I am committed to doing everything possible to provide my family, my community, and my country with a better and brighter future."

Join us at 11:30 for lunch. The program will follow at 12:00 noon. The meeting is held at the Venice Gardens Civic Association, 406 Shamrock Blvd, Venice

President's Message, by Barbara Vaughn

At the risk of repeating myself or sounding like I am harping, I am going to reiterate, mostly in someone else's words, the truth as I see it about Donald J. Trump.

We have had many good presidents who were either not Christians or whose beliefs we simply did not know. Yet we voted them in and, for the most part, it worked out okay. I don't know Mr. Trump, so I can't presume to judge whether he is a long-time believer, still a baby believer, or has no particular belief at all. But a minister by the name of Brother Valton Douglas was kind enough to summarize rather nicely in a recent email the few things that I do know about Donald Trump. So, the following is paraphrased and admittedly plagiarized from him!

We've heard too many people say lately that we, the American people, have no choice in this November election! Do you really think that God would leave us with no choice! Come on people! Where's your faith!! He has heard our cries!+

Try to keep in mind, Donald Trump did not steal your money, raise your taxes, or quadruple the price of food while denying Social Security cost of living increases. He did not promise you great health care at huge savings only to raise the prices and take away your doctor. Trump did not cripple our economy, increase our national debt to 20 trillion dollars, or ruin our credit -- twice.

Trump did not double African American unemployment or import hordes of unvetted immigrants to overrun our small towns and take our jobs. Trump did not increase welfare to a record level for eight years running or brag about the exponential increase in people on food stamps.

He is not trying to start a race war by constantly pitting races and ethnic groups against one another. He is not constantly criticizing and blaming our law enforcement professionals while disregarding their daily sacrifices of service.

Trump did not betray Israel; he did not provide financing and technology to Iran's nuclear weapons program; he did not give our military secrets to China, nor did he remove our nuclear missile shield from Poland at the behest of Russia.

Trump did not arm ISIS and turn a blind eye as they systematically exterminated Christians throughout the Middle East. Trump isn't setting terrorists loose to return to the battlefield so he can keep his unlawful promise to close Guantanamo. Trump did not shrink our military or betray our veterans. And, he did not leave US personnel in Benghazi to be slaughtered.

In short, when you hear people ripping on our candidate because they don't like his bombast or unscripted diatribes, remind them of these facts. Then ask them if they're really ready for a third term of Obama, complicated by Hillary's big money bribes from third world despots. Who in their right mind wants the Clinton Foundation or the Clinton Global Initiative running our country? Unless you can afford to pay-to-play at her level, your standard of living will soon find a new low level. And neither our streets nor our country will be safe.

So, turn off the main stream media and decide for yourself. Do you want an American who puts America first or a globalist; a man prone to bluster and swagger or a woman selling off our country by degrees? To me the choice is clearly between good and evil.

What Are My Choices?, Anonymous from the Internet

The folks speaking out against Donald Trump are helping me make up my mind a little more every day!

- Is he the perfect candidate whose thoughts mirror mine on all fronts? NOPE
- Does he say everything the way I wish he would say it? NOPE
- Am I absolutely sure that his motives are absolutely pure? NOPE
- Can I point to any other Dem politician that I like better? NOPE
- Is there any of the other RINO politicians that I like better? NOPE
- Am I going to sit home, refuse to vote, and let Hillary win; because he is not perfect? NOPE
- Do I like what I have seen for the last 7-1/2 years with the jerk that sleeps in my White House? NOPE
- Do I like the fundamental changes+that same jerk has brought about in my America? NOPE

TRUMP'S PRESIDENTIAL QUALIFICATIONS. THE FOLLOWING ARE ALL AGAINST TRUMP:

Obama	The media
The establishment	The Pope
The UN	The EU
China	Mexico
Soros	Black Lives Matter
Move On	The Koch brothers
The Bushes	Planned Parenthood
Hillary & Bernie	Illegal aliens
Islam	Kasich
Hateful, racist, violent liberals

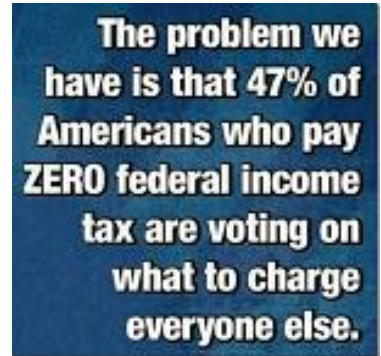

Now, that being said . . . it seems to me that Trump MUST BE the best qualified candidate we could ever have if so many political insiders and left-wing nut cases are so scared that they speak out against him.

PLUS:

He's not a lifetime politician
He's not a lawyer
He's not doing it for the money
He's a natural born American citizen born in the USA from American parents

BONUS POINTS:

These people will leave the country: Whoopi, Rosie, Sharpton, Cher, Cyrus
The Constitution and the Bill of Rights will prevail
Hillary will go to jail
The budget will be balanced in 8 years
Americans will have first choice at jobs
You will be able to keep your guns if you qualify
Only living, registered U.S. citizens will be able to vote
You must show ID to vote
You can keep your own doctor
You can say whatever you want without being called a racist, Islamophobic, etc.
He WILL make AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!
Come to think of it, we have no place to go, but UP! VOTE FOR TRUMP!

Given the Alternative, I'll Take Trump, by Dennis Prager, Thejewishpress.com, Excerpts, July 31, 2016

During the presidential primaries I devoted many hours of radio and many columns to criticizing Donald Trump. His nomination caused me grief as an American, a Republican, and a conservative. That his character defects, gaps in knowledge on some important issues, and lack of identifiably conservative principles meant little to so many Republican voters is quite troubling. (Though, I might add, it is even more troubling that virtually all Democrats ignored the even worse character of Hillary Clinton, as well as the idiotic socialist ideas of Sen. Bernie Sanders.)

In the 2016 presidential race, I am not interested in moral purity. I am interested in defeating the left and its political arm, the Democratic Party. The notion (expressed by virtually every anti-Trump conservative) that we can live with another four years of a Democratic president is, forgive me, mind-boggling. To that end, with at least one, and probably multiple, additional leftists on the Supreme Court, a Republican presidential victory in 2020 would mean little. All the left needs is the judicial branch, especially the Supreme Court. Left-wing judges pass so many left-wing laws that they render those who control Congress, and even the White House, almost irrelevant. Here, then, are nine reasons (there are more) why a conservative should prefer a Trump presidency to a Democratic presidency:

- * Prevent a left-wing Supreme Court.
- * Increase the defense budget.
- * Repeal, or at least modify, the Dodd-Frank act.
- * Prevent Washington, D.C., from becoming a state and giving the Democrats another two permanent senators.
- * Repeal Obamacare.
- * Curtail illegal immigration, a goal that doesn't necessarily have anything to do with xenophobia or nativism (just look at Western Europe).
- * Reduce job-killing regulations on large and small businesses.
- * Lower the corporate income tax and bring back hundreds of billions of offshore dollars to the United States.
- * Continue fracking, which the left, in its science-rejecting hysteria, opposes.

For these reasons, I, unlike my friends, could not live with my conscience if I voted to help the left win the presidency. I just don't understand how anyone who understands the threat the left and the Democrats pose to America would refuse to vote for the only person who at this point can stop them.

Brain Transplant

A family member lay gravely ill, the relatives gathered in the waiting room. Finally, the doctor came in looking tired and somber.

"I'm afraid I'm the bearer of bad news," he said as he surveyed the worried faces. "The only hope left for your loved one at this time is a brain transplant. It's an experimental procedure, very risky, but it is the only hope. Insurance will cover the procedure, but you will have to pay for the brain."

The family members sat silent as they absorbed the news. After a time, someone asked, "How much will a brain cost?+

The doctor quickly responded, "$5,000 for a Democrat's brain; $200 for a Republican's brain."

The moment turned awkward. Some of the Democrats actually had to try not to smile, avoiding eye contact with the Republicans. A man unable to control his curiosity, finally blurted out the question everyone wanted to ask, "Why is the Democrat's brain so much more costly than a Republican's brain?"

The doctor smiled at the childish innocence and explained to the entire group, "It's just standard pricing procedure. We have to price the Republicans' brains a lot lower because they're used."

Choosing National Suicide, by Lawrence Sellin, PhD, Family Security Matters, November 22, 2015, Excerpts, Submitted by Don O'Nesky

Mr. Lawrence is a retired colonel with 29 years of service in the U.S. Army Reserves and a veteran of Afghanistan and Iraq. He is the author of "Restoring the Republic: Arguments for a Second American Revolution."

As Winston Churchill noted in his indictment of appeasement of Nazi Germany in the 1930s, "There is a great danger in refusing to believe things you do not like."

Barack Hussein Obama is succeeding in dismantling the United States as a capitalist republic, based on Judeo-Christian democratic principles. His ideologies, Marxism and sympathy for Islam drive him to pursue policies that run counter to the national interest, the well-being of the American people, and frankly, the survival of the country. His mendacity is compounded by his arrogance and narcissism that prevent him from accepting responsibility and learning from his mistakes. He is not on our side.

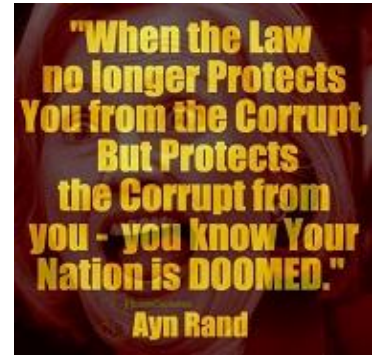

People ask- how can this be happening to our country? What can we do to stop it? It can happen because:

1. The political-media establishment does not consider the United States ~~our~~ country. They consider it ~~their~~ country, in which ordinary Americans are permitted to live as long as we elect those they want elected, continue to pay taxes to support their lavish lifestyles, and maintain the corrupt status quo. Welcome to feudal America!
2. Obama, the Democrat Party, and the liberal media and academia are populated with the same Islamo-Marxists who share the same traits- their hatred of Western civilization and a belief that the U.S. is the embodiment of evil on earth. While Islamic radicals seek to purge the world of heresies and the infidels who practice them, leftist radicals seek to purge society of the vices allegedly spawned by capitalism. Through unregulated immigration, Democrats seek to alter the demographics of the U.S. to create a permanent one-party state to implement their far-left totalitarian agenda. Islamists have something similar in mind, albeit even more brutal and oppressive.
3. America's domestic enemies promulgate notions that attack the basis of Western Judeo-Christian civilization, which emphasizes the uniqueness and sacredness of the individual. They promote policies that weaken our ability to transmit to the next generation the values and traditions upon which the U.S. was built.
4. An otherwise sophisticated society loses a sense of its own history, succumbs to a present-tense culture and embraces the false promises of a leftist utopia. The low-information voter will slouch toward Obama's utopia as in George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four.
5. The Republican Establishment and its propaganda arm, Fox News, choose not to expose and oppose Obama to any extent that it might place in jeopardy their position as junior partners in the corrupt political-media status quo. Republicans are not in Congress to represent their constituency or solve the nation's problems. They will more aggressively oppose internal political challenges, whether from Donald Trump or the Tea Party, and more eagerly work together with Obama and the Democrats. In doing so, they are choosing national suicide rather than representative government.

What can we do to stop it?

The political-media establishment does not want the American people to take back our country. They want to maintain the status quo or enhance the power of the federal government over the American people. The separation between the rulers and the ruled is greater than any other time in our history- it bears comparison to the events leading up to the American Revolution.

Frederick Douglass wrote: "Power concedes nothing without a demand . . . Find out just what people will submit to, and you have found out the exact amount of injustice and wrong which will be imposed upon them; and these will continue until they are resisted with either words or blows, or with both. The limits of tyrants are prescribed by the endurance of those whom they oppress." I think the American people are running out of words.

Typical News Report, Submitted by Don O'Nesky

A Harley Biker is riding by the zoo in Minneapolis MN when he sees a little girl leaning into the lion's cage. Suddenly, the lion grabs her by the collar of her jacket and tries to pull her inside to slaughter her, right under the eyes of her screaming parents. The biker jumps off his Harley, runs to the cage, and hits the lion square on the nose with a powerful punch. Whimpering from the pain the lion jumps back letting go of the girl, and the biker brings the girl to her terrified parents, who thank him endlessly.

A reporter has watched the whole event. The reporter addressing the Harley rider says, "Sir, this was the most gallant and bravest thing I've seen a man do in my whole life."

The Harley rider replies, "Why, it was nothing, really. The lion was behind bars. I just saw this little kid in danger, and acted as I felt was right and was trained to do."

The reporter says, "Well, I'll make sure this won't go unnoticed. I'm a journalist, you know, and tomorrow's paper will have this story on the front page. So, what do you do for a living, and what political affiliation do you have?"

The biker replies "I'm a U.S. Marine, a Republican, and I'm voting for Trump." The journalist leaves.

Time to Unite, Source, Mike Ford, Chairman, Republican Party of Tulsa, OK

The primaries are over, and our slate is set for the November elections. It's time to unite behind ALL of our GOP primary winners. As Gary Jones used to say, "Our worst guy is still better than their (democrats) best guy." And it's true.

Primaries can be long, emotional, and sometimes rough. It's not always easy to get excited about every Republican candidate, but as Ronald Reagan reminded us so often, the best way to promote conservatism and preserve liberty is for us to unite under the "Big Tent" of our Party. That means building a coalition with others who may not agree with us on every issue, but usually agree with us on 70% or more. And it means we must learn to be content with the will of the majority of Republican primary voters and see the big picture, which is being perfectly illustrated by the Trump vs. Hillary match-up. Congressman Jim Bridenstine (a faithful Cruz supporter) may have said it best: "This is a binary decision. We have a one and a zero. Republicans should definitely vote for Trump, because the consequences of a Hillary Clinton presidency would be catastrophic to our nation." I couldn't agree more.

Remember, the Republican Party isn't defined by our candidates, or by politicians we see on TV. These aren't our "Party Leaders," as they are so often incorrectly referred to by those in the media. Every registered Republican voter is a member of our Party, according to our rules. That means YOU! It's OUR Party, and its fate will not be defined by any of the personalities I previously mentioned. It will only be defined by our participation, our stewardship, and our resolve.

5 Things to Know About Mike Pence, Trump's VP Pick, by Jerry Shaw, Newsmax, Excerpts, July 15, 2016

Mike Pence, 57, brings years of experience in national politics to the ticket, having served 12 years in Congress before becoming governor of Indiana in 2013. His appeal to conservatives includes his stances on fiscal responsibility, economic growth, smaller government, and military strength.

He and his wife, Karen, married since 1985, have three children. Here are five things you should know about Pence and his upcoming role in helping Trump win the White House:

1. Pence has a low-key personality, according to Howard Kurtz at Fox News. This contrasts with Trump's fiery approach in the political arena and will help balance the ticket. While Trump keeps his grass-roots base revved up, Pence can provide the traditional conservative message with a more calming approach.
2. Before becoming governor, Pence served six terms in Congress where he built up a strong relationship with representatives on Capitol Hill. This could bolster Trump's shaky connection to many Republicans who distanced themselves from the presumptive Republican nominee. Pence served on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs to provide the Republican ticket with national security experience.
3. Pence will attract the Christian right with his strong anti-abortion stance. While in Congress, he tried to defund Planned Parenthood, noted Brian Eason of the Indianapolis Star. Pence once stated that he is %a Christian, a conservative and a Republican, in that order.+This, however, could cause an opposite effect for voters with an aversion to evangelical involvement in politics.
4. As governor, Pence has shown he is business friendly. Indiana has the seventh lowest tax burden on businesses, according to a 2013 study. The state could have the second lowest corporate income tax in the nation from a bill Pence signed in 2014, which cuts the tax from 6.5

The following morning the biker buys the Minneapolis paper to see if it indeed brings news of his actions, and reads, on the front page:

U.S. MARINE ASSAULTS AFRICAN IMMIGRANT & STEALS HIS FOOD

percent to 4.9 percent by 2021. He oversaw the largest state tax cut in Indiana history, relieving business personal property taxes.

5. Pence offers fundraising abilities where Trump lacks them. The governor not only has key financial connections because of his years in Congress, but he also has links to the billionaire Koch brothers, who have been at odds with Trump. Matt Lloyd, his deputy chief of staff, has been the director of communications for Koch Industries while Pence advisor Marc Short served as president of Freedom Partners, supported by the Koch brothers, according to the Hill.

Black Votes Matter, by Thomas Sowell, Excerpts, July 26, 2016

Black votes matter to many politicians · more so than black lives. That is why such politicians must try to keep black voters fearful, angry and resentful. Racial harmony would be a political disaster for such politicians. Racial polarization makes both the black population and the white population worse off, but it makes politicians who depend on black votes better off.

Hillary Clinton desperately needs black votes in this year's close election. Promoting fear, anger and resentments among blacks · and, if possible, paranoia · serves her political interest. Barack Obama has mastered the art of keeping black voters aroused while keeping white voters soothed · thanks in part to the gullibility of much of the public, who mistake geniality and glib rhetoric for honesty and good will.

Obama has repeatedly put the weight and prestige of the presidency on the side of those who denounce the police before any facts are verified · and even after facts have come out, exposing the fraudulence of such claims as the claim that the "gentle giant" Michael Brown said, "Hands up, don't shoot."

When a career race hustler like Al Sharpton, with a history of hoaxes, is a regular visitor and advisor to the White House, that is a reality that whites and blacks alike ignore at their peril. The fact that Sharpton owes millions of dollars in unpaid income taxes ought to be a devastating revelation of what lucrative careers there are in race hustling.

Nothing reveals the political cynicism of the Obama administration like their campaign to force schools to reduce the number of black male students who are disciplined for misconduct. What makes this such a farce is that many, if not most, of the teachers and administrators in ghetto schools are black themselves, and have no reason to discriminate against black males. What makes it a disaster is that only a few thugs in a classroom are enough to deprive all the other students of a decent education · which, for many, is their only chance for decent lives as adults.

Hillary Clinton plays the same political game of posing as a defender of blacks from enemies threatening them on all sides, as she tries to win an election that would amount to a third term of the Obama administration's policies · most of which have left blacks worse off than before Obama took office.

One of the key questions this election year is whether black lives matter more than black votes that can be won by racial charades that undermine and endanger those lives. The answer to that question will affect all Americans, because racial turmoil is to no one's interest, except some politicians and race hustlers.

The Donald and Hillary Go into a Bakery on the Campaign Trail

As soon as they enter the bakery, Hillary steals three pastries and puts them in her pocket. She says to Donald, "See how clever I am? The owner didn't see anything and I don't even need to lie. + I will definitely win the election."

The Donald says to Hillary, "That's the typical dishonesty you have displayed throughout your entire life, trickery and deceit. I am going to show you an honest way to get the same result."

Donald goes to the owner of the bakery and says, "Give me a pastry and I will show you a magic trick." Intrigued, the owner accepts and gives him a pastry. Trump swallows it and asks for another one. The owner gives him another one. Then Donald asks for a third pastry and eats it..

The owner is starting to wonder where the magic trick is and asks, "What did you do with the pastries?"

Trump replies, "Look in Hillary's pocket."

Donald Trump has been in the public eye for over 30 years...

...and he was never once accused of being racist by anyone until he decided to run against the Democrats.
